Dear General Manager or Production Manager:

Once in a great while, genuine talent and experience shows up at your doorstep. Someone with the right acting experience, singing and dancing versatility and productive know-how to get the job done. Someone you can rely on to deliver quality work. Someone you can rely on for creativity and pizzazz. Heck, just someone you can rely on!

Well, that's me, Timothy Klippinger.

I've been in the acting industry for quite some time and have come a long way since my beginning days. As you will see from the attached resume, my career has been diverse, yet held together by that connecting strand that is the love of performing.

I love performing and it shows- as does my appreciation for the people with whom I work. Even with the pressures and strict deadlines of the business, I have always maintained my poise, sense of humor, and good rapport with peers.

I truly believe that I can bring some answers to your production of XXXXXXX.

Thank you for your consideration and time. I look forward to working with you soon.

Sincerely,

TIMOTHY KLIPPIINGER
